EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Murang'a County Children Policy, developed to address the diverse needs of children in the region, aims to provide a comprehensive framework for promoting and safeguarding the rights of children. The policy emphasizes the importance of a safe and secure environment for all children, aligning with the principles established in the Kenyan Constitution and various national and international child rights frameworks.

The policy outlines a vision for a county where all children thrive, supported by a coordinated approach that includes all stakeholders, from government to civil society. The goal is to promote holistic growth and development among children through effective and integrated services. Key objectives include safeguarding children's rights to life and family care, protecting them from violence, promoting their growth and participation, and harmonizing the legislative and budgetary frameworks related to children's welfare.

A significant aspect of the policy is its situational analysis, which highlights the challenges faced by children in Murang'a, including poverty, health disparities, and lack of access to education and safe environments. With approximately 63% of the county's population being under 34 years old, addressing the needs of children is paramount. The policy recognizes that 33.5% of children in Murang'a County are multidimensionally poor, significantly impacting their well-being and development.

The policy underscores the need for a multi-sectoral approach that integrates various services, including health, education, social protection, and child welfare. It emphasizes child participation, ensuring that children's voices are heard in matters affecting them, as stipulated in the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child.

For optimal implementation, the policy establishes a coordination framework that involves various stakeholders, including the County Technical Working Group and County Children Advisory Committees. This framework is designed to ensure effective monitoring, evaluation, and resource mobilization to support children's services.

Overall, the Murang'a County Children Policy seeks to create an environment where children are safe, healthy, and able to reach their full potential, addressing systemic challenges and fostering community involvement in children's welfare. The successful implementation of this policy is crucial for achieving the desired outcomes for the children of Murang'a County.

Chapter 1:Introduction

1.1. Background

Murang'a County is one of the forty-seven counties in the Republic of Kenya and one of the five counties in the Central region of the country. The County occupies a total area of 2,558.8 square kilometres. It is bordered to the North by Nyeri, to the south by Kiambu, to the west by Nyandarua and to the east by Kirinyaga, Embu and Machakos counties. It is divided into nine sub-counties namely Murang'a East, Murang'a South, Kangema, Mathioya, Gatanga, Kigumo, Kandara, Kahuro, and Ithanga/Kakuzi.

The 2019 National Population and Housing Census enumerated the total population of Murang'a County to be 1,056,609 persons consisting of 523,940 males and 532,669 females with an annual population growth rate of 0.4%. The County population is relatively youthful with approximately 63% of the total population aged 0-34 years. The proportion of older persons aged 60 years and above is relatively high, accounting for about 11% of the total population. The County population size and structure is summarized as 0-4 years (110,514); 5-9 years (114,251); 10-14 years (117,758); and 15-19 years (105,467).

In 2020, the KNBS published the comprehensive poverty report - the first-ever national attempt to measure poverty in a comprehensive manner, including multidimensional and monetary approaches, for different population groups notably children, the youth, women, men, and the elderly. The report findings confirmed that using a monetary measure alone does not capture high incidence of multidimensional poverty. The monetary poverty rate for Murang'a County is 24.6%, which is 11-percentage point lower than the national rate of 35.7%, with approximately 259,751 people in the County being monetarily poor. Murang'a County has a multidimensional poverty rate of 43.2%, which is 19-percentage point lower than the monetary poverty rate of 24.6%, with 456,156 people being multidimensionally poor. When disaggregated by age groups, 33.5% of children in Murang'a are multidimensionally poor. This is 19 percentage points lower than the national average of 52.5%. Among the youth, 43.6% are multidimensionally poor, compared to a national average of 48.1%, while for the elderly population, 40.9% are multidimensionally poor, compared to a national average of 55.7%.

Regarding children, the roles of the County governments are well spelt out under section 61 and 62 of the Children Act (Cap 141). They include providing or facilitation of the provision of pre- primary education; provision or facilitation of the provision of childcare facilities; and establishing welfare schemes to provide or facilitate the provision of childcare facilities and programs for children including children with disabilities. Section 63 of the Act requires the establishment of children rescue centers in every County for the temporary care of children in need of care and protection pending placement in alternative care or other interventions. Noteworthy, under section 54 of the Act, County Government officers are members of the County Children Advisory Committees (CCACs) whose functions include providing a platform for collaboration between the national and county levels of government on children matters.

1.2. Vision

A county where all children thrive in a safe and secure society.

1.3. Goal

To promote holistic growth and development of all children in the County through a coordinated and multi-sectoral approach.

1.4. Objectives

Implementation of this policy will be guided by the following objectives:

1. To safeguard the right to life, family and community based care for all children.
2. To protect all children from all forms of violence and provide mechanisms of redress in case of violations.
3. To promote the holistic growth and development of all children.
4. To promote meaningful participation of children in all matters affecting them.
5. To provide for harmonization of the County policy, legislative and budgetary frameworks for enhanced coordination and implementation of children rights.

1.5. Rationale

Article 53 of the Constitution of Kenya provides for the rights of children which includes the right to free and compulsory basic education, basic nutrition, shelter and health care; protection from abuse, neglect, harmful cultural practices, all forms of violence, inhuman treatment and punishment, and hazardous or exploitative labor; parental care and protection to mention but a few. These rights are also provided under Article 43 of the Constitution. Article 45 of the Constitution provides for the family as the natural and fundamental unit of society in which children should grow, develop, and attain their full potential. Chapter 11 of the Constitution provides for devolved governance while the Fourth Schedule sets out the distribution of functions between the national and county levels of government.

The Children Act came into force on 26th July 2022 to, among other objectives, give effect to article 53 of the Constitution. The Act assigns specific roles and responsibilities to County governments on matters of children. This policy therefore seeks to provide Murang'a County with a comprehensive policy framework to anchor the realization of these roles and for promoting and protecting the rights and welfare of all its children. Besides establishing mechanisms for strengthening and coordinating child rights programming in the county, the policy also mainstreams child participation systems to promote their best interest. In addition to assigning roles and responsibilities for effective implementation of key interventions herein, this policy also provides for resource mobilization and allocation strategies by both the County government and its partners.

1.6. Policy development Process

This policy has been developed through an inclusive, participatory and widely consultative process with representation of multiple stakeholders. Key stakeholders and institutions that have been part of process include children, County government departments, National Council for Children's Services, Directorate of Children Services, Directorate of Social Development, Council of Governors, Judiciary, Ministry of interior and National Administration, National Council for Persons with Disabilities, Faith based organizations, Media, Council of elders (Kiama kia ma) and community based organizations working in the children right sector. Annex II provides a brief highlight of the activities undertaken in developing this policy.

1.7. Scope

This policy provides for a multi-sectoral approach in promoting and protecting the rights of all children in Murang'a County. It applies across the County and binds state and non-state actors (individuals and institutions) who partner with the County government in the implementation of policies, programmes and projects that seek to safeguard and protect the rights and welfare of children.

1.8. Guiding Principles

This policy is anchored on the following guiding principles:

Non-Discrimination: Children should enjoy their rights and never be subjected to any form of discrimination. It is the obligation of the Murang'a County government to provide equal opportunities for all children.

Best interests of the child (BIC): The best interest of the child shall be the primary consideration in all actions and decisions that concern children. The best interest considerations under Section 8 and the First Schedule of the Children Act shall guide such actions and decisions.

Meaningful child participation: Children have a right to freely express their views on matters that affect their lives. In all matters affecting a child, the child shall be accorded an opportunity to express their opinion, and that opinion shall be taken into account having regard to the child's age and degree of maturity.

Multi-sectoral approach: This policy will be implemented through a collaborative and partnership approach involving both state and non-state actors.

Chapter 2:Situational Analysis

This chapter provides a contextual basis of this policy. It seeks to provide a brief status update, review trends and identify any gaps in order to inform strategic interventions and activities. In addition to a review of the legal and regulatory framework, and regional and international benchmarks the situational analysis is premised on the 4 main pillars of the UNCRC namely the right to survival, the right to protection, the right to development and the right to participation.

2.1. Legal and policy framework

a. Global and regional level landscape

Article 2 (6) of the Constitution states that any treaty or convention ratified by Kenya shall form part of the national law. Kenya is a party to multiple global and regional conventions, treaties, and declarations that guarantee the rights and welfare of children. This policy draws from these instruments, which place obligations upon states to protect, respect, promote, and fulfill the rights of children.

At the global level these instruments include the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC); the United Nations Declaration of Human Rights; the Hague Convention on Protection of Children and Intercountry Adoption; UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD); the International Labor Organization Minimum Age Convention and Worst Forms of Child Labor Convention; and the 2019 United Nations General Assembly Resolution on the Promotion and Protection of the Rights of the Child.

Important instruments at the regional level include the African Charter on Human and People's Rights; the African Charter on the Rights and Welfare of the Child (ACRWC); and the Protocol to the African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities in Africa.

b. National Level

Kenya has a robust Constitutional and legislative framework that seeks to promote and protect the rights and freedoms of children. Article 53 outlines specific provisions for children including the principle of the best interest of the child and attendant rights, inter alia, the right of access to free and compulsory basic education, access to basic nutrition, protection from abuse, neglect, harmful cultural practices, inhumane treatment and punishment, and hazardous or exploitative labor.

Further, article 27 outlaws discrimination on any grounds including age while article 45 recognizes the family as the natural and fundamental unit of society and the necessary basis of social order, and shall enjoy the recognition and protection of the State.

Among the key legislative frameworks at the national level include the Children Act (Cap 141), the Early Childhood Education Act, 2021, Basic Education Act 2013, Protection against Domestic Violence Act 2015, the Health Act 2017, Persons with Disability Act 2003; Sexual Offences Act, 2006; Employment Act, 2007; Marriage Act, 2014; Computer Misuse and Cyber Crimes Act, 2018; Victim Protection Act, 2014; HIV and AIDS Prevention and Control Act 2011, Legal Aid Act, 2016, Data Protection Act, 2019, Law of Succession Act, Cap 160 and the Counter Trafficking in Persons Act, 2010.

c. County level

Part II of the Fourth Schedule of the Constitution assigns County governments specific functions relevant to children rights and welfare. Accordingly, the County government of Murang'a has developed diverse policies, legislations and strategies, which have a bearing on the rights and welfare of the child. They include the Murang'a County Health Policy 2022-2027 that focuses on the key obligations of health: accessibility and affordability of healthcare services. The County Nutrition Action Plan (CNAP) 2020-2025, which sets ambitious targets for the scale-up of nutrition interventions. The plan identifies priority multi-sectoral nutrition actions for each sector, defines targets for each intervention, and provides a monitoring and accountability framework as well as costing of interventions, which the county can use for subsequent planning and budgeting. The Murang'a County Health Services Act, 2020 provides an implementation framework for health services across the county, Murang'a County Alcoholic Drinks Control Act of 2014, Murang'a Agro-ecology Policy, 2022-2032, Murang'a County Agro ecology Development Act, 2022.

2.2. Child Survival

a. Child Health

Section 16 of the Children Act affirms that every child has the right to enjoy the best attainable state of physical, mental and psychological health. This includes the right to access age-appropriate information on health promotion and the prevention and treatment of ill- health and disease, mental health and reproductive health and confidentiality regarding his or her health status and the health status of a parent, care-giver or family member, except when maintaining such confidentiality is not in the best interests of the child.

According to the 2022 Kenya Demographic and Health Survey (KDHS), in Murang'a County under-5 mortality (deaths per 1,000 live births) stands at 47 compared to national average of 41 while neonatal mortality (deaths per 1,000 live births) is at 36 compared to a national average of 21. The percentage of the household population with access to an insecticide-treated net (ITN) is at 31% compared to a national average of 50%.

According to the 2022 Study on status of the family in Kenya by the National Council for Population and Development (NCPD), 63% of Murang'a County residents have no medical insurance while 35% reported NHIF as the main type of insurance cover. Through the CIDP 2023-2027, the County proposes a two-pronged approach to address this challenge. First is strengthening the NHIF coverage, and secondly, establishing a fund to cover the costs of every expectant mother seeking pre and post-natal services in the county public health facilities through a fund dubbed "Kang'ata Care." In 2022, the County Government of Murang'a signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the NHIF; that has expanded the health scheme coverage to approximately 40,000 households, which translates to approximately 120,000 individuals.

According to the 2019 National Population and Housing Census, the majority (95.5%) of births taking place in the county occurred in a health facility. The County is undertaking initiatives aimed at enhancing the capacity of healthcare providers. For example, in July 2023, Jacaranda Health and the County Government graduated the first cohort of 68 mentees and in-facility mentors under the MENTORS' programme to support delivery of comprehensive care to mothers and their babies.

b. Nutrition

According to the State of Food Security and Nutrition in the World report 2021, 68% of the population in Kenya is food insecure. According to 2022 KDHS, in Murang'a County 10% of the children under 5 are stunted (Too short for their age) while 6% of children under 5 years are underweight (too thin for their age). The Murang'a CIDP 2023-2027 proposes to adopt and implement nutrition interventions affecting pregnant mothers, school going children, and the vulnerable families. The Murang'a County Nutrition Action Plan (CNAP) 2020-2025, which aligns to the Kenya Nutrition Action Plan, recognizes nutrition as a fundamental human right and a driver of economic development. The County has an uji (porridge) program targeting ECD pupils in 650 public ECD centres reaching out to 42,000 ECD pupils. The CNAP provides a roadmap and monitoring tool for nutrition programs across the county.

Murang'a County has developed food pharmacies in a bid to increase its residents' access to healthy and nutritious food. The food pharmacies promote consumption of medicinal foods in addition to conventional medicine. Since 2022, through a nutrition program dubbed Malezi Bora, the County has embarked on a drive to administer deworming drugs and give vitamin A supplement to children aged up to five years. The program, administered bi-annually targets 100,000 children.

c. Children with disabilities

According to the 2019 Kenya National Population and Housing Census, the number of persons with disabilities was 102,527, which accounted for 9.7 percent of the total county population. The age between 0-14 years' accounts for 53.9 percent of the total county population of persons with disability. According to Cheshire Disability Services Kenya and CRESNET report "Exploitation of Children with Disabilities in Kenya", some children – including children with disabilities, children with HIV or children who are in institutional care – are more vulnerable to violence due to stigma, discrimination or heightened risk, and warrant special attention. The County also provide assistive devices and chairs for the people with disability.

The 2022 Study on the status of the family in Kenya by the National Council for Population and Development (NCPD) indicates that 52% of families have a member with disability and only 45% of those with a member living with chronic illness are able to provide for the needs of these vulnerable members of the family respectively.

Murang'a County has several special schools and integrated units within regular schools that cater for children with disabilities. These institutions provide specialized education, therapy, and care. They include Murang'a School for the Hearing Impaired, Giachuki Special School for the Mentally Handicapped, Miharati Special School, and Integrated Units in regular Schools e.g. Kabati Special Unit (for children with intellectual disabilities) and Kangema Special Unit (for children with hearing impairment).

d. Water, Sanitation and hygiene

The Kenya Population and Housing Census, 2019 indicated that 27.9% of the population obtain piped water from water service providers while 37.2% obtain their water from either improved or unimproved springs, wells or boreholes. Over 29% received their water supply from other unsafe sources like streams, lakes, ponds and 5.9% received water from water vendors. The sector is faced with high levels of non-revenue water (45%) water that is produced but is not accounted for.

According to the Joint Monitoring Programme for Water Supply, Sanitation and Hygiene report, Kenya has made progress in improving sanitation services, but as of 2022, an estimated 8.5% of Kenya's population still practiced open defecation.

According to KDHS 2022, the percentage of the household population with access to at least basic drinking water service is 81% compared to national average of 68%. While household population with at least basic sanitation service stands at 50% compared 41% at national level.

2.3. Child protection

According to the 2019 national VAC survey, nearly half of females (45.9%) and more than half of males (56.1%) experienced childhood violence in Kenya. Among the 15.6% of females who experienced childhood sexual violence, nearly two-thirds (62.6%) experienced multiple incidents before age 18. According to the Kenya Demographic and Health Survey 2022, Murang'a among other counties exhibit the highest prevalence of sexual violence against women aged 15-49, with 24.3 % of reports of sexual violence cases. This alarming trend underscores the urgent need for intervention and support mechanisms for affected individuals including children.

According to the Murang'a County Crime Outlook 2020 report by the National Crime Research Centre, child abuse (including child neglect) accounted for 31.1% against 26.9% at the national level; defilement at 32.6% and 31.3% at national level; loitering for prostitution (including child prostitution) 0.8% against national average of 0.5%.

According to the KDHS report, drug addiction and abuse shows 7% (15 to 19 years), also 10 to 18 years are affected. Further it shows that in Kenya, there are an estimated 26,673 people who inject drugs with 1.5% (412) estimated to be in Murang'a County. As of December 2021, only 63% (16,725) Country wide were reported as active of whom 1% (161) were adolescents aged 15-19.

According to the National Council on Administration of Justice report (2022-2023), Murang'a had 276 child offenders. Theft was the highest recorded crime involving minors, with 78 cases. A further 40 children were booked for possession of narcotics and 34 were in conflict with the law for housebreaking.

The numbers in Murang'a paint a grave situation with high numbers of minors engaging in capital offences. From the report, 28 children were recorded to have defiled others, while 8 attempted sodomy or rape and one committed sodomy.

According to the 2022 KDHS, the prevalence of Female Genital Mutilation in Murang'a is 17% against the national prevalence of 15%.

According to a study published in June 2024 in Reviewed Journal of Education Practice that examined the impact of child labor on school attendance and academic performance among pre-primary and lower primary school pupils in the region. Child labor remains a significant concern in Murang'a County, adversely affecting children's education and well-being. The findings revealed that child labor negatively influences both school attendance and academic performance, primarily due to socio-economic factors. The study emphasized the urgent need for coordinated efforts to combat child labor and its detrimental effects on educational outcomes.

2.4. Child Development

a. Family and Community based care

The National Care Reform Strategy for Children in Kenya (2022-2032) envisions that "all children and young people in Kenya live safely, happily and sustainably in family and community-based care where their best interests are served". Kenya has an estimated 45,000 children living in over 845 Charitable Children Institutions (CCIs). Institutions in Murang'a County hosts approximately 700 children in about 14 CCIs, 2 SCIs and 1 children remand home. The County government of Murang'a runs two SCIs (Koimbi and Kandara) with a combined population of approximately 100 children.

Section 67 of the Children Act stipulates that the placement of a child in a CCI shall only be done as a last resort. Under the transitional provisions of the Act, it is expected that CCI shall not undertake any activity after 2032. The Act assigns various roles and responsibilities to County governments including providing or facilitating the provisions of pre-primary education; providing or facilitating the provision of childcare facilities; establishment of welfare schemes; and establishment of children rescue centres. Section 12 of the Act extends social security support for children in alternative care.

The 2022 Study on the status of the family in Kenya by the National Council for Population and Development (NCPD) indicates that 42% of families have a member consuming alcohol while 27% have a member consuming tobacco. 42% of the respondents in rural areas preferred leaving their children under the care of their spouses/partners. 15% of caregivers in urban areas compared to 2% in rural areas reported day-care as their main childcare arrangement. 35% of separated/divorced/widowed parents indicated that they leave their children under the care of grandparents. 25.2% of separated/divorced/widowed parents leave their children alone. The study concludes that parental skills need to be enhanced to play an active role while teachers and religious communities can play important and complementary roles in developing a positive intercultural and global outlook among children.

Noteworthy, daycare and other home-based childcare facilities lack the requisite support, recognition and regulations necessary to offer optimal childcare services. Despite the Constitutional and legislative provisions regarding the role of counties in this regard, there is lack of a clear national policy and regulatory framework that outlines minimum standards, norms, practices, and operating guidelines for these critical childcare providers.

b. Early Childhood Development (ECD) and Early Childhood Development Education (ECDE)

The Nurturing Care Framework 2018 and the draft Kenya Integrated Early Childhood Development Policy 2024 underpins the critical role played by the formative years of a child's growth and development. Age of 0-8 years is critical for human development. This is the period when the brain develops most rapidly and the neural connections formed are the foundation of a child's physical, mental health, lifelong health, and holistic wellbeing.

The fragmented nature of service provision in the current Early Childhood Development (ECD) ecosystem and its attendant services at the national, county and community levels, is guided by various policies, strategic plans and service guidelines that have been developed and implemented at all levels by state and non-state actors. There is also fragmented data on the number of ECD centres in Murang'a including services provided by Day/Night care centres and Home Based Child Care (HBCC) providers.

ECDE is the foundation of education, offered in both private and public schools to promote cognitive development through a curriculum that provides play-based learning, socialization, and an exploration environment. Section 61 of the Children Act obligates County governments to provide or facilitate the provision of pre-primary education.

According to the Murang'a CIDP 2023-2027, the county has 648 public ECDE Centres, with a total enrolment of 41,373 pupils. The ECDE programmes have been successful in the following areas: feeding program raising enrolment in the sector, access due to free tuition, provision of scholarship fund for 4700 bright and needy students as an intervention program, improved monitoring and assessment, 99% transition of pre-school learners from ECDE to primary education, construction and renovation of classrooms. However, the following challenges were noted: inadequate resources, bureaucracy in the procurement process, shortage of teachers, and rise in absenteeism due to the withdrawal or inconsistency of the lunch program, poor and dilapidated infrastructure, inadequate & proper teaching and learning materials and inadequate play and rest materials.

c. Social protection

The Government of Kenya has established the National Safety Net Programme (NSNP) to provide an operating framework for the four (4) cash transfer programmes: The Cash Transfer for Orphans and Vulnerable Children (CT-OVC); the Older Persons Cash Transfer (OP-CT); the Persons with Severe Disabilities Cash Transfer (PwSD-CT) and the Hunger Safety Net Programme (HSNP).

According to the KNBS Comprehensive Poverty Report 2021, there is a slightly higher poverty prevalence rate in households with children (36.3%) compared to those without (31.3%). Urban households with children had a lower poverty headcount rate of 33.1% compared to their rural counterparts at 38.0 per cent. However, it is noted that there is less variation between households with and without children in rural areas, as measured by poverty incidences and poverty gap.

The report further highlights the percentage of poverty rates for the children in Murang'a County as follows: 19.1% for children between 0-5 years, 30.1% for children between 6-13 years and 29.6% for children between 14-17 years. The 2022 Study on the status of the family in Kenya by the National Council for Population and Development (NCPD) indicates that 55.8% of the families are not saving at all. Families seem to be borrowing a lot to sustain their daily livelihood as reported by about 1 out of 10 families that they are heavily burdened by debts. The proportion of older persons aged 60 years and above is relatively high, accounting for about eleven percent of the total population. The total dependency ratio is 69.2 with child dependency ratio at 54.8. The CIDP 2022-2027 commits to the sensitization and mobilization of the community members toward cash transfer programs, women's funds and other social activities.

According to Situational Analysis Report launched on 31st October 2024 by Forum for African Women Educationalist Kenya (FAWEK) Murang'a County was among the counties that recorded the lowest rates of teenage pregnancies at 9.2% against an average of 27.4% among the surveyed 20. Whereas the low percentages are encouraging. The number of children affected are still a cause for concern. Teenage pregnancies threaten rights of children under article 53 of the Constitution. These rights include education, health and the overall best interests of the child.

The county has adopted a multisectoral approach to reducing teenage pregnancies by bringing together stakeholders comprising of government representatives, community leaders, educators and health professionals discussing strategic interventions and policies conducive to decreasing teenage pregnancy rates and re- entry of teenage mothers back to school. School re-entry guidelines for survivors of teenage pregnancies and child mothers have also been touted as necessary in realizing the right to education of the survivors.

The County has continuously given bursaries to the needy secondary school children. The County runs the County Scholarship Fund for continuing high school students under "Nyota Zetu" - Equal Education Opportunity for Every Murang'a Child Program. Additionally, the County often extends bursaries to orphaned and vulnerable children and those with disabilities or whose parents have disabilities.

The County Government in collaboration with the World Bank has started an Economic Inclusion Program (EIP) in Murang'a North and South Sub-counties targeting 1,500 families who were chosen as beneficiaries who get Ksh. 2000 stipends monthly to combat effects of poverty.

d. Recreation, leisure, and cultural activities

Section 14 of the Children Act entitles every child to leisure, play and participation in non-harmful cultural and artistic activities. The Act requires every county government to appoint and designate specific areas in estates and villages as public child play and recreational facilities, which shall be accessible to all children, including children with disabilities.

The Murang'a County Youth Empowerment Bill 2022 obligates the County government to, among other interventions, identify and establish an area for leisure in each of the urban areas in the sub-counties, encourage private sector participation in the promotion of arts and sports, and establish institutions to promote diverse arts and cultural activities.

2.5. Child Participation

Article 12 of the UNCRC provides that a child who is capable of forming his or her own views has the right to express those views freely in all matters affecting the child, the views of the child being given due weight in accordance with the age and maturity of the child.

Citizen participation is among the national values and principles of governance under article 10 of the Constitution. Statutorily, the right to child participation is explicitly provided for under sections 8 and 28 of the Children Act. The main platform for facilitating child participation is the Kenya Children's Assembly (KCA). The Operational Guidelines for Children's Assembly 2021, the Charter for the Kenya Children Assembly (KCA) 2021 and the 2021 Kenya Children Assembly (KCA) Standing Orders provide a national level framework for child participation. Child participation has also been facilitated by the Ministry of Education through school students' leadership. At the national level, plans are underway to review the Child Participation Guidelines, 2011 to harmonize child participation framework in the country.

The Kenya Children Assembly and Students governments have provided opportunities for child participation in Murang'a County. KCA has representation up to the sub-county level. Children in Murang'a County participate in preparation, planning and celebrations for the annual national Children's days including the Day of the African Child and World Childrens' Day. Children are also involved in the development process of legislation and policies. They also participate in devolution conferences organized by the Council of Governors.
